Greensboro Children's Museum - Adults go to work every day in a town, and at the Greensboro Children's Museum, children go to their work in "Our Town", the realistic theme for the Museum. Now the work your children are doing looks like playing, but if you could peek into their brains, you'd see all the synapses lighting and connecting. Their hands-on-play becomes learning. That's how we're growing curious minds at GCM.

Old Salem - Town Visit - As one of the most authentic and inviting living history restorations in the United States, Old Salem invites you to find yourself in another time and place. As you stroll through the restored town, you can not only view the buildings and gardens as they were, but you can experience the daily life that took place inside, showing you history as the Moravians lived it.

Tours of Old Salem are unguided and at your own pace. Trained, costumed "interpreters" are located in most buildings to provide historical background and share the tasks and skills of the original settlers.
